

HAMILTON CONSERVATORY FOR THE ARTS

Monday, March 16, 2020

Dear HCA Family,

Due to the evolving COVID-19 situation, Hamilton Conservatory for the Arts has decided to extend our class hiatus by two weeks. Our plan is to return on Monday, April 6, with the term concluding on Friday, June 26.

This is not a decision we made lightly. Hamilton Conservatory for the Arts is a leading arts education institution in our community, and with that position comes a social responsibility to help protect individuals most vulnerable to severe illness - the elderly, the immunocompromised, those with chronic conditions, etc.

HCA will operate on an altered office schedule during the extended class hiatus, to be determined and communicated. We will now have class on Saturday, April 11 - a day that the building was originally closed due to the Easter Weekend. HCA Celebrates Dance Recital tickets will begin going on sale on Saturday, April 18. We are currently in touch with the Society of Russian Ballet to discuss options for our ballet exams.

We care deeply for each member of our community, and believe that this is the right decision. Please don't hesitate to contact us with any questions or concerns you might have. Because our building is closed during March Break, the best way to reach us this week is via email.

We will update you on any developments through email to our students, our website, and social media (Facebook, Twitter, Instagram).

Please take care of yourselves and others,

HCA Administration
